IRC Board of Realtors Conference Room

In this Issue...

Please join Mark Herndon from Autobahn Communications as he demonstrates the new Apple iPad, a magical and revolutionary product at an unbelievable price.

Learn how you can surf the web, read email, view photos, watch movies, listen to music, and much more from the comfort of your couch or anywhere. And did we say it was also an eBook Reader? iPad will change the way people read books, magazines, and newspapers, the same way Apple changed people listen to music on the iPod. This device will work with Windows and Mac!

The best way to experience the web, email, photos, and video. Hands down.

All of the built-in apps on iPad were designed from the ground up to take advantage of the large Multi-Touch screen and advanced capabilities of iPad. And they work in any orientation. So you can do things with these apps that you can't do on any other device.

Mark Herndon of AUTOBAHN will demonstrate the new Apple iPad introduced this week.

Also, "Random Access" questions and answers on any subject from and by attendees. Door prizes.

Don't forget.
Come early Computer "Help Desk" available from 6-7 p.m. for those needing some extra help with a computer problem or question.

MICROSOFT ANNOUNCES THE WINDOWS PHONE 7

Microsoft recently unveiled Windows Phones Series 7, the latest version of its operating system for mobile devices, and it looks like an impressive and radical change from prior Windows mobile OS versions. Redmond clearly has its sights set on the everyday user with deep integration for social networking, Windows Live and Web-based e-mail. Series 7 phones will also have an Xbox LIVE feature extending the gaming features for millions.

Microsoft announced that Windows Phone 7 will feature:

- accelerometer support;
- a Microsoft Location Service for the phones;
- Microsoft Notification Service, known to other smartphone users as push notifications;
- hardware-accelerated video playback with digital rights management (DRM);
- Internet Information Services Smooth Streaming for live video;
- multitouch support;
- camera and microphone support

The unit is scheduled to be delivered later in the year before the holidays.

Burning Multiple Times to the Same CD

Generally, when you burn files to a CD once, you're done — you can't burn to that CD again. Unless you use this little trick: First create a new folder and give it a descriptive name (something like "burn baby burn!" Kidding). Now put the files you want to burn into that folder, then go to the Applications folder and open the Utilities folder. Double-click on Disk Utility. When it comes up, go under the File menu, under New, and choose Disk Image from Folder, and then when the Open dialog appears, find that folder with the stuff you want to burn and click the image button. A Save dialog appears in which you can leave the name as is or choose a new name (leave the other controls alone), and then click Save. In a few moments, a disk image of your folder's contents will appear in the list on the left side of the Disk Utility dialog. Click on that icon, and then click the burn button at the top left of the Disk Utility dialog.

When you click the Burn button, a dialog will appear asking to insert a disc. Do so, and then click once the blue downward-facing triangle on the right side of this dialog to show more options. Click on the checkbox for Leave disc appendable, then click the Burn button. Your data will now be written to that CD. To add more files later, just insert that same CD and then you'll use this same process all over again, but when you get to that final burn dialog, the button won't say "Burn" this time, instead it will say "Append" because you're adding these files to the same disc. By the way, don't forget to remove the files you already burned to this disc from your "burn baby burn!" folder (and the DMG file it creates) before you make your next disc image.

Attend A SIG!
